Mission Statement

At NS Aviary, our mission is to empower individuals and families, especially women, to earn a sustainable income from home through the art and science of aviculture. We strive to promote aviculture as a viable and rewarding pursuit by providing comprehensive education, resources, and support. By fostering a community based on Islamic values, we aim to create opportunities for personal growth, financial independence, and enhanced well-being, while advancing the practice and appreciation of bird breeding across Pakistan.

Goals

Goals: Our primary goal is to scale this hobby to support more families, aiming to increase the number of families involved by 1,000 times. With less than 1% of the country's population currently engaged in aviculture, we have many decades ahead to expand and flourish nationwide, In sha Allah.

Educational Background

I completed my primary and secondary education in West London, England, attending Blair Peach Primary and Villiers High School.

I studied business administration in England before turning my hobby of bird breeding into a profitable enterprise. I consider aviculture not only a healthy occupation but also a means to empower others economically. My business administration studies in England provided a strong foundation for turning my hobby into a profitable enterprise.

I memorized the Quran (Hifz) in Cairo, Egypt, and pursued partial studies at Al Azhar University under Dr. Majdi Sultan, a world-famous scholar. I am also certified in Traditional “Isnaad” that leads to the Prophet Muhammad (SAW) from multiple renowned scholars, including Hafiz AbdulManaan Noorpuri Sb and many others.
